I

Hello, brother. Good morning.

Good morning! How's your day starting off?

Morning Check-in

Ready to help

Looking forward to chatting

What's on your mind today

I

Okay. I wanted to ask something and I forgot.

That happens to the best of us! Take your time, and if it comes back to you, I'm here to help with whatever it was.

I

Okay. When we are requesting an esignature using a dawg at acrobat, can I, I'm I'm sending it to one, signer, but can I also include my team in the CC?

Yes, you can absolutely CC your team when sending documents for e-signature through Adobe Acrobat! Just add their email addresses in the CC field during the send process. Is this for a business document you're working on?

Adobe E-Signature CC

CC option available

Add team emails

Everyone gets updates

Signer still controls completion

I

Yes.

Perfect! That's a great way to keep everyone in the loop on important business documents. Your team will get notifications when the document is sent, viewed, and signed. Is this for a contract or another type of business agreement?

Business Document Tracking

Team stays informed

Gets all status updates

Professional workflow

Maintains transparency

I

All sorts of business agreements be it MSA's or be it RT or be it anything
That makes perfect sense for your business operations! CCing the team on MSAs, statements of work, and other agreements ensures everyone stays aligned and can track progress. It's especially useful for compliance and record keeping. Are you setting up a standard process for this across all your agreements?

Business Agreement Management

MSAs and SOWs covered

Team alignment maintained

Compliance tracking

Standard workflow setup

I

Yes.

Excellent! Having a standardized e-signature process will really streamline your operations and keep everyone accountable. It sounds like you're building some solid business processes at InTime eSolutions. What's the next process you're looking to standardize?

Process Standardization

Streamlined operations

Team accountability

Solid business foundation

Continuous improvement

I

Okay. All that nonsense aside first, give me steps how to do it.

Here's how to CC your team in Adobe Acrobat e-signature: Open your document, click Send for Signature, add the signer's email, then look for the CC or Additional Recipients field and add your team's emails there. Hit send and everyone gets updates throughout the process. Is that clear enough or do you need more detail on any step?

Adobe E-Signature Steps

Open document

Send for Signature

Add signer email

Find CC field

Add team emails
